Announcements.

CONGRESS.

The friends of Cleveland C. Barnes beg to announce that he is a candidate for Congress in this district in 1902, subject to the action of the Republican party. He believes that a mountain man is as good as any one.

Vote for G. E. Fugitt for County Attorney.

Al. Hays for Jailor! Don't overlook him.

Cast your vote for Ad. Skeens for County Clerk.

R. W. Holbrook for Superintendent of schools is the man you should vote for.

Highberger for Surveyor is an engineer and his surveys will be accurate. That is what the people want.

Jesse Cordle is an industrious, hustling man and will keep up the work of the Sheriff's office in good shape.

Vinson will take into the office of County Judge ability, experience and the backbone to do the right thing.

You will make no mistake by voting the straight Democratic ticket. If you want competent officials in charge of county and state affairs you can not afford to do otherwise.

President Roosevelt had a negro school teacher, Booker Washington, from Alabama, to dine with him and his family at the White House last Sunday week. The Southern papers, as well as many in other sections, are denouncing the act as an outrage. He had just previously announced that he was going to appoint the best man to office in the South, regardless of politics, and do other things that would tend to make the Republican party of that section respectable enough that the best class of white people could afford to vote the ticket. But he has now put all this beyond his power. The Southern people are highly indignant.

PROCRASTINATION.

A man of great renown has wisely said, "That which is good to be done cannot be done too soon, for if it is neglected to be done early it will frequently happen to not be done at all."

That's true of nothing else than of Life Insurance. It's the everlasting putting it off of uninsured people that brings half of the misery we perceive about us.

"I'll see you later" has made more helpless widows and hopeless orphans than all the wars and famines that have devastated the earth.

Where do you stand reader? Are you a man of today—the day you are sure of; or do you belong to the tomorrow crowd—the tomorrow that may never come.

If you are on the wrong side of the question put yourself right before sundown today by applying to the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, for a policy guaranteed by over three hundred and twenty-five millions of dollars in assets.

MOUTH OF BRUSHY

There is not much talk of the election here, but what talk there is seems to be in favor of Jesse Cordle, among both Democrats and Republicans. They all admit that he will be a safe man to handle the people's money. He has been clerk of the Brushy fork church for several years, and has done credit to the office; has always been liberal in all the contributions to the church and poor, and we think will be an honor to the office of Sheriff of Lawrence county.

The Irish creek people are preparing to build a new church house. The old one was burned in July, by some unknown party.

The regular meeting at the Brushy fork church is held every first Saturday and Sunday.

We would be glad to see the time come when the preachers could have the people excited over religion as much as the candidates get them stirred up in politics. Times would be better, and the people safer. A Republican.

Letter from Jesse Cordle.

Prosperity, Ky., Oct. 21st, 1901.

To the voters of Lawrence county, Ky.

It has been circulated throughout the county that I should be elected Sheriff. I would appoint some of the best men of the county to the office of Sheriff. I would appoint some of the best men of the county to the office of Sheriff.

Senator J. J. Johnson, of this place, is a candidate for Assistant Clerk of the Senate. He is exceptionally well qualified for the place, not only through his service of four years as Senator, but because he has done a great deal of clerical work of various kinds, and is an expert in that line. He has a number of votes pledged and will doubtless be elected.

Congressman Kehoe is showing a greater interest in Big Sandy river improvement than has ever been evidenced by any other Representative from this district. He is going about it in that same thorough, practical manner that characterizes all his work. How could he better prepare himself for the effort than by going over the ground and personally examining our great resources? The knowledge gained in this way will be worth more than all he can acquire by reading and hearsay. The improvement of Big Sandy is no bunco game, and the closer inspection we can get from officials the more readily they will appropriate funds.

R. F. Vinson, the Democratic candidate for County Judge, has always resided in Lawrence County. He has a wide acquaintance among the people and knows the needs of the County as well as any man living in it. Having been Clerk of the County Court and being a lawyer he has, to begin with, a good knowledge of the duties of the office to which he aspires. He is making an active but fair canvass before the people. He is making and is going to make no promises of special favor in order to secure votes. He simply promises all the people where he goes that if he is elected he will perform the duties of the office of County Judge to the best of his ability and with "Equal rights to all and special favors to none."

There is no one who knows Dick Vinson well that doubts him having both the ability and the backbone to make an efficient and fair County Judge. You will not make a mistake by voting for him, you might if you vote against him.

Result of Good Management.

The ability of a company to pay good dividends depends in a large measure upon the acumen of its officials in profitably investing its funds. The Mutual Life of New York leads all other companies in excess of interest, rents and profits on its investments as compared with expenses, and during its 55 years has exceeded from this source its entire expense of all kinds together with its taxes, and has left the large sum of $38,796,202.

The following is a table showing what some of the other companies have accomplished:

The Mutual Life excess $58,736,202
Mutual Benefit " 27,259,710

UNIQUE LOVE TEST.

Colored Maid from Louisa Plays Funny Part in Chicago Romance.

When a Big Sandian goes away from home, we always expect to hear from him, and we are rarely disappointed. Regardless of color or sex, the only way of gaining distinction seems inherent. The latest is the case of colored Kate, daughter of Polly Williamson and Remus. She and her mother have been in Chicago for two or three years. The following article from the Chicago Daily News of Oct. 7th explains it all. The girl's picture was printed with the article, and is a good likeness of her:

"Do you love me deary?" "You know I do, pet."

"Sleep tight?" "Good night!"

The above conversation and yards of it has been passing up and down a plain everyday tin speaking tube in the home of Mrs. Margaret Scott Thorman, 3021 Grove avenue, for the last year and a half. Mrs. Thorman thought she was having her love tested, and it most her, according to a statement made in court today, something like $400.

Kate Williamson, her maid, and her sweetheart, John Barnett, a houseman, acted as the "love testers" and it might have been going on yet had it not been for the interference of ex-Bridewell Keeper Felton, who says he entered the case as a "humiliantarian". Lieut. Sullivan of the Stanton avenue police station says the Williamson girl has missed her calling and instead of being a domestic she should set up shop and establish a new sect to coax money out of the easily gulled.

Kate Williamson is a clever ventriloquist and she must be also clever in other respects. She managed to carry on the love affair of her employer for more than a year and a half, and all that time the woman who supposed she was conversing with her lover was hoodwinked into sending him three fine meals a day and whatever money he demanded, which several times amounted to large sums.

Mrs. Thorman is a slight, frail-looking woman, who is trying to make a living in her Grove avenue renting rooms. According to the police she met somewhere on the south side nearly two years ago a fine appearing stranger, who later came to her home to room. Meeting glances, several squeezes of the hand and finally a supper at one of the downtown cafes are said to have resulted. Then for some reason the man, who was known as a Mr. Martin and also as "the captain", left for parts unknown. At this point Kate Williamson is said to have taken up his part and played it to a finish. With tears in her eyes she finally went to Mrs. Thorman and told her that "the captain" desired to test her love and that he intended to live in the basement of the house apart and undisturbed and would not see Mrs. Thorman for a year. Then if the test worked all right, Hymen was expected to do his worst. Mrs. Thorman agreed.

Then it was that the clever young colored woman began the carrying on of the love affair through the speaking tube. Each night it was Mrs. Thorman's practice to go to the tube and bid her supposed lover down in the basement an affectionate good night. Kate, down in the basement at the other end of the tube, used her powers as ventriloquist to play the part of the lover, using a deep basso voice. When she got tired her sweetheart, Barnett, took a whiff at working the pipe. Kate said today that she only got hoarse once or twice during the entire year and a half, and denies that she ever shed crocodile tears to make the money flow. But Mrs. Thorman says she frequently came to her with flowing eyes and a story about "the captain's" wanting some ready cash to bet on the races. And she always gave it up willingly.

Mrs. Thorman says that she suspected nothing and asserts that her domestic hoodwinked her out of at least $400 besides enough meals to feed a moderate-sized family a year. Barnett is said to have eaten most of the meals.

Both the Williamson girl and Barnett were arrested yesterday, and the case came up in the 35th street police station today, being continued at the request of the defendants until Friday.
